DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

This application has been filed with informal drawings which are acceptable for examination purposes only. Formal drawings will be required when the application is allowed.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 16 to 19 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 to 8 of U.S. Patent No. 6,618,880 in view of Miller (6,263,532). The main difference between the present set of claims and those of the '880 patent is the claimed location and shape of the aperture for the mattress cover. As already inferred by the applicant the location of the aperture is not critical and can be placed anywhere needed upon the mattress cover. In addition Miller teaches that it is known in the art to provide a zipper opening 32 for a mattress cover that extends in a C-shaped fashion along two side and across one end of the cover. In view of this it would have been obvious tot the skilled artisan that the mattress aperture set forth in the claims of the '880 patent could have been arranged in the fashion taught by Miller, since this is within the level of skill in the art and allows for easy removal and insertion of the mattress within the cover.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 10 and 11 are allowed.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kuhangel shows a mattress cover with an aperture that is of general interest. Zafiroglu (5,603,132) shows a mattress cover with an elastic skirt which is of general interest.
